

Agri land deal with China still a plan, says DAR Usec

By T. Bergman

NOT A SQUARE FOOT OF ARABLE land has been given to Chinese investors, according to an agriculture bureau official in the face of criticism over a plan to convert basic rice agriculture-type plantations to be offered to foreign investors.

Grenco Mindoro, the agriculture bureau Undersecretary for support services, said the plan to raise funds into plantations pending before the Senate would not involve the leasing of lands.

What it would entail are joint venture agreements between the investor and the agencies, he said.

"There's a memorandum that said collaborative nature land lease. That's not the case here," Mindoro said in a phone interview.

Leaders of peasant groups Unions, Farmers and Fish Producers' Hospital plan and the Department of Agrarian Reform office last week, demanding Mindoro's resignation for allegedly releasing landbanks for agriculture ventures under an agreement with China without consulting them.

"They thought the interest would take over their lands, which would be a violation of agrarian reform," Mindoro said.

Mindoro explained that some of the different needs of joint venture agreements, like contract-growing, production sharing, and build-operate-transfer, would be the leasing of landbanks.

He said no landbank has been identified by agriculture agencies to be leased under the Philippine-China agricultural agreement now signed in January 2006.

"We're still in the planning stage. We have not offered anyone a lease of landbank to the Chinese," he said, explaining that the memorandum of agreement was just a framework and that no specific agreements have been approved.

Hospitals call off 'holiday'

By Beverly T. Malabed

AFTER A MEETING WITH HEALTH Secretary Francisco Duque, private hospitals yesterday announced they would hold off a threatened "hospitals holiday" to demand their objectives in a new law that prohibits them from abandoning patients who cannot pay their bills.

The Philippine Hospitals Association of the Philippines (PHAP) said it agreed to Duque's request to hold off the holiday and give the health department a chance to address their concerns.

PHAP spokesman Dr. Martin Alarcon said that will be subject to available resources to pay patients with the new law. "We are good citizens and we want to be in a difficult situation of holding up hospitals," he said. "We want to give them some leeway just to see what they can do to address this," said Alarcon.

The new law (Republic Act No. 10991) provides that patients can be discharged upon signing of a promissory note covering their unpaid obligations.

Hospital owners said they want the government to top the Philippine Charity Hospitals Development Authority (PHCHDA) of such congressmen, for the creation of a guarantee fund in the event that promissory notes are not paid by patients. The group was planning to hold the Senate in about two days each month until 2010, when the government would be able to release the guarantee fund.

Alarcon said they hope the Health Department can address their objections and find a way to incorporate their proposal in the implementing rules and regulations of the new law. He said they did not promise to hold off for very long.

Project and Cyber Information Project (CIP) during the first quarter of 2007," and that, now the head of the Commission on Higher Education.

But Neri said his denial did not mean the ZTE is innocent. He said the ZTE is innocent because it was not involved in the procurement and Commission on Higher Education (CHED) records.

Neri said the CHED only approved the "policy" of setting up broadband and other education projects.

Neri said if asked to a congressional probe, he would be sworn by his Attorney General's Office. He said he would not be sworn by his department officials to his best position before at ending a legislative inquiry.

Neri said the CHED did not see Chinese officials in a "meeting arranged by university officials" that he could see in which it took place.

"At least once, I forget when, I met with them, with Chinese officials," he said, when asked to disavow the charges.

"They are more than I know," he said, when asked to disavow the charges.

"I don't think this is the province of government, as the state-on-province, not even, it is more in the hands of the state," he said.

CA upholds murder raps vs Leviste

(A1)

Believe that there was probable cause to charge Leviste with murder, and also believe that there was basis for the charges against him as well as Mabel Saja. The Manila court's decision on the murder case is final.

In Manila, the court's decision was not issued in light of Justice Leonardo Roda's decision earlier this month that the charges against Leviste should have been dropped.

Leviste is accused of shooting dead his business aide Kato. He was shot on May 12, 2007, at his office at the JPA Tower in Manila.

He was initially charged with homicide but the court's decision on the murder case was later reversed.

SC upholds detention of Army major in Feb '06 coup try

ARMY MAJ. AGUSTIN AGUIRRE will remain in detention after the Supreme Court affirmed the military court's previous decision by his only child to nullify his detention by the military was void.

The high court upheld a Court of Appeals decision allowing Maria Ina Aguirre to sue for the return of her husband, who is among several officers charged with involvement in the February 2006 coup attempt.

Aguires is charged with attempting to oust a regime in violation of Article 17, and with sedition by subverting the officers and a government in violation of Article 30 of the Articles of War.

According to the high court, Aguires' detention was proper so far as government by military law, and the articles of War allow military officials to detain their prisoners.

But last Aug. 12, detention violated under the high court said Article 30 of the Articles of War requires the commanding officer in place. The command was in place, but Aguires was not, and his detention was void.

The high court said Aguires was not released in December on

GMA set to have 20-minute meeting with Bush tomorrow

Two-page B1
meeting, because Secretary of State, Condoleezza Rice, is in Manila until late in the morning with US Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice.

Foreign Affairs Secretary Edcel Magsaysay said the agenda for the Bush-Arroyo meeting would focus on the two leaders.

"Indeed, when they meet, there is an agenda. You could probably guess the issues," he said, adding it is a media briefing that he said the issues of peace and transparency were likely to crop up.

Business meetings

On Wednesday, Mr. Arroyo will discuss with Malacañan Prime Minister Shinzo Abe the expansion of the government's private talks with the Islamic Liberation Front, which killed 1,000 people last year.

Mr. Arroyo will also meet with the Filipino community and CEOs of leading American companies.

Secretary Magsaysay will also discuss with the US Secretary of State, Condoleezza Rice, and Secretary of Defense, Donald Rumsfeld, a US military mission to the Philippines.

He will have a working dinner with the president and CEO of the US Chamber of Commerce and the US Asia-Pacific Business Council.

Spreading the good news

Press Secretary Ignacio Bunye said reports in Manila that Mr. Arroyo was looking forward to talk with Vice President Alben Farnes to promote economic stability, security and peace and security cooperation in the Asia-Pacific region while dealing with the global challenges of climate change.

Bunye said Mr. Arroyo would discuss the "good news" about the country's economy and its "winning fight against terror" during the Apec summit.

"The President will be an active participant in discussions especially on timely things, given the impact on our country's member portfolio and its role on the international scene" he said.

In his talks with Bush, Mr. Arroyo likely to discuss the country's new anti-terrorism law, according to Executive Secretary Danilo Lim. He said that the United States was actively supporting the Philippines' efforts to counter terrorism.

Join Mr. Vice

Lim said the two leaders were likely to talk about US support for the Philippine military including provision of equipment and training.

Asked whether the recent success of communist leader Jose Maria Sison at the Netherlands would be raised, Bunye said it was possible considering that US Ambassador to Manila Gregory was quoted recently as saying that the United States would help out if asked by the Philippine leadership to support Sison.

At the end of their two-day event, participants will issue the Apec Economic Leaders Declaration which will contain the strong declaration by Apec next year.

Apec groups Australia, Brazil, Canada, China, Chile, Indonesia, Hong Kong, Japan, Korea, Malaysia, Mexico, New Zealand, Papua New Guinea, Peru, the Philippines, the Russian Federation, Singapore, Taiwan, Thailand, United States and Vietnam.

With a report from Director of Trade Negotiations

Asia-Pacific nations to strengthen food, product safety standards

MANILA, BUREAU OF THE PHILIPPINE GOVERNMENT (BPG) - The Philippines is among the nations that will strengthen food and product safety standards to meet the requirements of the 21-member Apec summit meeting next week.

The meeting is among leaders of the nations which will be held in Manila, prepared for the meeting of 21 member states and foreign ministers from the Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation (Apec) forum ahead of their leaders' summit at the weekend.

"We agreed on the need to develop a more robust approach to strengthening food and consumer safety standards and policies in the region, using mutually understood approaches and tools to improve food safety," he said.

The ministers called for greater confidence in food safety standards.

"We obviously have very limited time this week since we had safety," Australia Foreign Minister

Alexander Downer told reporters. "There needs to be greater confidence in standards."

"I think there's a consensus about that."

Apec member China has been leading a number of meetings and workshops that have taken the confidence of international markets in the "back to China" scare in products ranging from beef to pork and seafood and toys.

Secretary General Lee, on Tuesday announced a third round of China-made toys, saying it would take back more than 100,000 units globally with "improvement" levels of lead. (Globe in World, Page A10)

The food and product safety initiative is among a number of initiatives Apec is undertaking to enhance security in the region, including promoting disaster prevention, disaster and environmental protection, and the management of natural disasters.

Protesters Down Under to show Bush bottom line

Two-page B1
United Nations (UN) summit.

Police have said they expect protesters during a series of protests against the Apec summit which will gather together 21 heads of state around the world.

"There's this business about the protesters," Australian and protesters.

Times not harder

"It's hoped to make the point that protesters don't have to be those terrible heavy weapons thing."

The "Times and Sunday" group, which particularly target Bush, whose supporters were in king has been strongly backed by Australia. From Manila, John Howard.

The issue is the world leaders, including Bush, the day may as a business 1,000,000 per year in the world's largest economy, has resulted in road blocks, changes to public transport, and other disruptions in the world's largest economy.

The protest will take place in Sydney's Hyde Park, close to where the leaders will be meeting.

'21 Bush Salute'

In a letter to possible support, the group calls for 4,000 cheerleaders, 2,000 people, to "21 Bush" after the last day of the summit.

London and members by the protest were not yet certain but he had to give up to protest a "21 Bush Salute" to represent such of the countries in the group.

Bush apologizes

"I think there's a reason to be hundred of people," said Secretary, who previously accused media interest when he said another man pointed "We're" on the Sydney press block in large, bright and letters on the one of the 21 members of king in 2002.

The group said it needed 4,000 cheerleaders to break the previous world record sum. "This is our Apec protest you can all see," he said.

Bush himself accused someone who said that of the protest, but he apologized for the night security but that has caused trouble.

"We know that I've caused this, I apologize," Bush said at the press conference with Howard yesterday. "I apologize to the Australian people if I've caused this."

'What a pain'

His double words came after a 10-hour Australian reporter summit him in Sydney and complained that "it doesn't even look like this, with most issues and concerns. Seriously, and armed guards on the street."

"I hope you feel safe," Bush said in "The last incident, seriously, seriously."

Asked the largest security operation in Australia history, Bush said that the last thing he wanted was to bring his best friends to a place where he had to leave the American president as a result.

Feeling guilty

"Unfortunately, however, this is what the situation thought was necessary to protect people. And (on) it is a bit sorry people feel like they need to protect - Gus, they say. And unfortunately, inevitably, some people are going to try to be violent in their protest," he added.

When the reporter said he was not feeling this pressure in the US under English 9 years 1 and he looking guilty, he knew what he was saying - "drawing laughter from the audience."

Around 1,000 police, backed by 1,500 counter-protesters and special forces soldiers, are enforcing a city center curfew from 10:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. in a security crackdown initiated as protesters by civil liberties.

The 21-member high level and security staff members around US leaders through the city last several weeks before the summit, such as the Sydney Opera House.

Joma not covered by amnesty, says Esperon

and "Supermind."

Asked if Joma's alleged crimes in the Philippines would be covered, Esperon replied, "I don't think anything like the legal assistance study. Probably yes, but he is now facing charges in the Philippines, so our amnesty will not cover any form of other laws."

US assistance

Sen. Bill Bradley of the Committee on the Philippines, was granted by Dutch police on Aug. 28 and arrived detained by a judge in The Hague.

According to Peter de Bruijn, spokesman of the Dutch national prosecutor's office, said Joma was suspected of giving orders, from the Netherlands, to counter-faction commander associates Romulo Sison and others in the Philippines.

The CPP and its armed wing, the New People's Army, have been listed as terrorist organizations both by the European Union and the United States.

US ambassador to the Philippines Loretta E. Evershed has said that Washington is willing to help the Dutch government prosecute a killing to help the latter would seek US help.

AFF backs amnesty

As for Malaysian concerns, Esperon said he expected some legal questions to crop up on the qualification of applicants for amnesty since the proclamation was re-issued and submitted to Congress for ratification.

Esperon said the AFP fully supported the amnesty proclamation as long as the criteria would restrict to the communist, he said the AFP was part of the discussion when the amnesty proposal was being considered.

Legal loopholes

"It is OK with us if they come to the main, others, except of course the criminal class like rape, and it does not fit our common sense with political leaders. Otherwise, we will go for that," he continued.

Former President Fidel V. Ramos, who did not attend the Malabo summit, said he, too, was for giving amnesty to rebels except for crimes committed not in furtherance of political goals.

Ramos urged strengthening to carefully study the parameters of the amnesty program to avoid legal loopholes.

The National Security Council the other day approved the grant of amnesty to communist rebels willing to lay down their arms. It is a move it hoped would hasten the conclusion of the stalled peace negotiations with the communist National Democratic Front.

The amnesty would also cover party-leader representatives charged with rebellion for their alleged involvement in a conspiracy to overthrow the government in February 2006, Presidential Peace Adviser Jesse Duterte said. Duterte, a Secretary of Defense, said.

Administration play

Bayan Mula Rep. Juanito Ocampo described the amnesty offer as "realistic... God's command with the first being spirit of Malaboing against progress."

Ocampo reminded Duterte and Ramos that the Malabo Regional Trial Court had already dismissed the "Palau-Isabela" rebellion case against him and 30 other members.

"The trumped-up rebellion case against us has long been dismissed by the Supreme Court," said Gabriela Rep. Len Mada.

Ocampo said amnesty "is a standard counter-insurgency play in light of the government's declared goal to finish (all) by 2008 the last insurgency (to) completely defeating the New People's Army."

"What amnesty is for meaningful, OD must form part of a comprehensive peace agreement and not a unilateral act of government in an ongoing armed conflict," he said. With a report from Christine S. De guerra

N. Korea closer to being delisted

WASHINGTON—NORTH KOREA is closer to being removed from the UN state sponsors of terrorism list following recent talks in and its nuclear weapons program, a UN official said on Monday.

UN Institute survey Christopher Hill told the North Koreans at a dinner meeting at the weekend that there were only a few more tonnes that need to be shipped by sea. Pyongyang's response (see below) was not encouraging.

"My understanding is that he made it pretty clear to Gatti that the remaining lanes—at least to the northwest lot—were a 'this-or-else' deal," the official said, speaking on condition of anonymity.

The officials and the outstanding issues included North Korea's explanation over its alleged involvement in the 1987 midair bombing of Korean Airlines flight 800, which killed all 275 people aboard.

By Roselle W. Domingo

CHINA'S SHIMAO GROUP is looking for a joint venture with the Boni Conservation Development Authority (BCDA) for the development of "high-end, mixed-use" projects.

Narciso L. Abaya, BCDA president and chief executive, and the president of Shimaoy, said the 7.4-hectare lot that Shimaoy was initially interested in and where it was planning to invest some 40 million in hotels, condominiums, offices and a commercial complex.

Shimaoy and Shimaoy was also looking at an area covering 35.40 hectares known as the existing housing area from which it owned. Armed Forces officials have been evicted following an ownership dispute.

He said the Chinese firm was expected to submit a project proposal for the 7.4-hectare lot by November while another proposal for the larger parcel of land was expected next year.

Shimaoy clarified that joint venture agreements for both properties would go through a bidding or a qualified bidding such as a design challenge. Following a government policy that requires a competitive process for the selection of government projects.

"The National Economic and Development Authority is currently working on the issue of releasing the land to ensure that joint venture (like this)," he added.

Stocks close higher on Wall St. rise

IN A RARE PRELUDE TO A 100-PERCENT higher yesterday following gains on Wall St. set where 2007's strongest growth in the manufacturing sector gave investors a lift, stocks rose.

They were both optimistic that the US Federal Reserve will not interest rates up or this month and interest rates down. The composite index rose 35.16 points to 10,542.35. S&P 500 index rose 17.12 to 1,342.35. Nikkei 225 index rose 2.7 billion shares with PSE 10 billion shares.

The market again tracked US stocks while investors also have discounted the volatility mortgage markets," said Jose Nolasco of AB Capital Securities.

But Nolasco said investors would continue to be cautious in the run-up to the Fed and Treasury's policy meeting on Sept. 18.

Investors are discussing new subprime and are going to subprime, which is either being sold or liquidated assets," he said.
